Paris Hats---Remarkable Display

LADIES who wish to see the latest Paris fancies in millinery — genuine imported Paris hats (not copies) are invited to this exposition of trimmed hats and novelties. The hats are the creation of the celebrated Jeanne. Some are expensive, even costly, but nearly all are within the reach of the average Honolulu purse. The hats are indescribable — only a personal inspection will give you an idea of their beautiful lines. A parrot feather hat (by Jeanne) is one of the little gems.

Besides the trimmed hats, here are some of the novelties that arrived in the same shipment. All genuine Paris goods and likewise haffle description.

Feather stoles, bows and sweeps; Paradise in monotone, Paradise wings, Aigrette wings, Mercury wings, assorted shades. Natural ostrich fancies, Maribou fancies, Cock feathers in variegated shades, Silk and Velvet Moon Poppies; Silk and Velvet Cabbage Roses, Camellias, in white, pink and mulberry; Embroidered Galoons, Gold and Irrescent Galoons; Gold Embroidered Hair Bands, Gold and Irrescent Hair Ornaments, Cut Jet Hair Ornaments, Gun Metal, Silver and Gold Hair Ornaments; Honeycomb Veiling and Veilings of every description.

The foregoing articles were especially selected by Mme. Germaine from Paris, in bond, direct to the Custom House in Honolulu.

STANDARD OIL
IN FOREIGN LANDS

IMMENSE AMOUNT OF OIL TRADED FOR BILLIONS OF FOREIGN COIN — CHINA IS BIG CONSUMER.

Washington. — The Standard Oil Company has many millions of foreign gold in its coffers. The government, which has means of getting at the approximate figures has been footing up the totals and it declares that the big corporation has collected just about $2,000,000,000 from the world outside of the United States since it has been in business.

Eloquence about "trade following the flag" is all right, of course, but according to the government oil statistics, few ends of the earth remain where Mr. Rockefeller's kerosene is not ahead of the flag. All over civilized Europe it fills the lamps, except in Russia. In Africa even Mr. Roosevelt will have to use the Rockefeller brand if he keeps his light shining at night. In Asia, in Australia, in New Zealand and in the myriad islands that speck the map of the Pacific, all, all is Standard Oil.

Even away up in interior China wherever a river with water to float a vessel of three or four feet draft is to be found, there are tank junks trading Mr. Rockefeller's celebrated illuminant for the cash of the Chinese.

Ten years ago China imported 88,500,000 gallons of kerosene of which more than 40 per cent came from Russian sources. Last year the amount imported was 186,000,000 gallons, and the Russians provided but 1 1/2 per cent of it. Sumatra sold 23 1/2 per cent of it and the Standard all the rest, or 65 1/2 per cent, viz. 21,750,000 gallons.

While the Standard's trade has increased practically everywhere in the world, the big achievement was this one in China. In fact, about the only country on the globe, except Russia, to show much of a decrease in the use of the Rockefeller goods was Holland, and Holland felt that she ought to buy from Sumatra. The Standard's foreign sales of oil and oil products in 1875 amounted to $29,900,000 and during the fiscal year ending June 30, last, they reached $106,000,000. Almost every year from 1875 to now has shown an increase in the foreign trade.

TRAVELLING TROOPS

WELL FED.

Washington.—Improvements in the methods of sustaining the army while traveling by rail have made the lot of the private soldier much more comfortable than formerly. This is shown in the annual report of Commissary-General Henry G. Sharpe in his discussion of the operations of the kitchen tourist car, the detachment mess car and the portable gas cooker, which, he says, have been thoroughly tried out and found satisfactory.

They have revolutionized. General Sharpe says, the old system of providing subsistence for traveling troops and are a solution of what has been for years a difficult problem. With a view to obtaining fresh potatoes for the army in the Philippines, experiments in the growth of the vegetable are being made, and, if successful, will result in a considerable saving to the government.

The report shows that it cost the commissary department $533,822 more to keep the army of Cuban pacification in the island than it would have cost to take care of the soldiers in this country.
